

Can You Afford Not To Own A Manure Spreader?

It is impossible to get the best results by spreading manure by hand. It takes more time and will not reach as far and you cannot afford the loss. It is much better than Commercial Fertilizer. We sell the JNO. DEERE and INTERNATIONAL Low-down SPREADERS. Let Us Figure With You.

HARVEY TO REFUSE ANOTHER TERM

Believes He Can Do More Good Helping Save Civilization.

Springfield, Sept. 5.—W. H. (Coin) Harvey, originator of the Ozark Trails movement and president and general manager of the Ozark Trails association since its conception in 1913, will decline re-election at the annual convention of the association to be held in Roswell, N. M., October 1, 2, and 3, he has informed Springfield friends.

Mr. Harvey, under whose leadership the association has developed from a nucleus of sixty road enthusiasts to a strong organization of 5,000 members, declared that the present day civilization is threatened through lack of nation-wide concentration on character building and stated that he will devote his entire time to averting, as far as he is able, repetition of a fate which, he points out, has engulfed former civilizations.

During its six years of life, the association has promoted and marked with the green and white O. T. emblems, 3,000 miles of roads in the middlewest. It is at present promoting an additional 4,000 miles.

W. T. Juddkins left Saturday morning for Columbus, O., to attend the fifty-third annual encampment of Grand Army of the Republic.

YOUNG MAN IS STABBED WITH KNIFE

Eldon Ennis was stabbed twice in the left side and back with a pocket knife in the hands of Tom Luney Saturday afternoon at Oak Ridge base ball grounds as the result of a quarrel between Luney and Mel Ennis a younger brother of Eldon, over an account which Mel Ennis had been trying to collect from Luney.

The stabbing occurred about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at a ball game at Oak Ridge. Ennes bled profusely when struck by Luney and before he could be brought to Cassville to have his wounds dressed he was very weak and in a dangerous condition. Car trouble delayed getting him to town. His wounds were dressed by physicians Chandler and Bailey. They found that Ennes had received a serious wound in the left side of the back under the shoulder blade and another in the left side under and in front of the left arm pit. The back wound was very deep and looked serious for sometime.

Luney was arrested Saturday night upon a charge of felonious assault and brought to Cassville by Sheriff Houston and Deputy Reed. He succeeded in making bond Sunday for his appearance for preliminary hearing which is set for September 13.—Cassville Republican.
